

RESPONSIVE READING PSALM 40:11-17

11. *As for you, O Lord, you will not restrain your mercy from me;
your steadfast love and your faithfulness will ever preserve me!*
12. *For evils have encompassed me beyond number;
my iniquities have overtaken me, and I cannot see;
they are more than the hairs of my head; my heart fails me.*
13. Be pleased, O Lord, to deliver me! O Lord, make haste to help me!
14. Let those be put to shame and disappointed altogether who seek to snatch away my life; let those be turned back and brought to dishonour who delight in my hurt!
15. Let those be appalled because of their shame who say to me, "Aha, Aha!"
16. *But may all who seek you rejoice and be glad in you;
may those who love your salvation say continually, "Great is the Lord!"*
17. *As for me, I am poor and needy, but the Lord takes thought for me.
You are my help and my deliverer; do not delay, O my God!*

BITS AND PIECES:

When I see the debris of the storm in my friends, family, and my mirror, I am forced to see that the ravages of sin are inescapable. If I am surprised by sin in my life or in others, I am operating according to the tragic assumption about life. If I do not anticipate the regularity and tragedy of sin, I unavoidably, come to believe this world is my home. It may be near impossible to release the lie, "This is my home; I deserve life, love, and liberty," but no one will choose a path of sacrificial, courageous love if this life is either all there is or is nearly as good as the next. One will choose the better only if the present is faced as it is- not worth living for, but worth dying to change.
